

Major Cruise Lines Put a Halt to Bargain Hunting

Cruising the Internet and canvassing travel agents for the best deal on your next cruise may not produce the bargains you have been used to in the past. Several of the major cruise lines have decided to stop playing the competitive game to win your vacation dollars by instituting new restrictions on the travel agent's part to discount the deal. Norwegian, Royal Caribbean, Carnival and Celebrity have halted the competitive fighting and put new pricing policies in place...

Date: 2007-04-23

Article link:

<http://www.tourism-review.com/travel-tourism-magazine-major-cruise-lines-put-a-halt-to-bargain-hunting-article167>