

Remarkable Underground Hotels around the World

There are many things that make up a good hotel but why not try something a little different, with a hotel that is located underground? There are underground hotels all around the world and if you choose to stay in one of these unique yet cozy buildings, it will be a trip to remember.

La Clusto – Airolo, Switzerland

This unique underground accommodation has lots of interesting history behind it. This hotel was originally a military fort inside St. Gotthard Mountain. The accommodation is actually inside the mountain rock and it is very modern in its appearance. With organic cuisine and fun activities galore, staying here will be a time worth remembering.

Sala Silvermine – Sweden

If you want somewhere stunning but unique to stay on your visit to Sweden, then why not give Sala Silvermine a go? It's an authentic mine that has been converted into a hotel suite. It is actually the deepest hotel room in the world as it calmly sits over 500 feet below the surface of the earth. All guests will receive a complimentary tour of the mine. It is an absolutely beautiful place to stay and guests will be given a basket full of chocolate, biscuits, cheese, fruit and wine in order to make their time at Silvermine even more accommodating. Be sure to dress warm though because it can get quite cold both in the hotel room and the mine.

Les Hautes Roches – Rochechouart, France

Make your time in the Loire Valley unique with a stay at the luxurious troglodytic hotel. For a place with so much war and religious history behind it, it has now been turned into beautiful accommodation inside the cliff rock.

Kelebek Cave Hotel – Cappadocia, Turkey

Turkey has a cozy underground hotel located in the heart of Goreme's village. The rooms are very comfortable and with a traditional Turkish breakfast served to all guests, you are sure to enjoy your time in this unique hotel.

Beckham Creek Cave Lodge – Partenon, Arkansas

You will be pampered and thoroughly looked after in this serene underground hotel in Arkansas. Although you will be living below the earth that does not mean you can't partake in activities such as hiking and horseback riding. You can also lay back in a Jacuzzi or simply enjoy your room and its amenities.

Cuevas Pedro Antonio de Alarcón – Guadix, Spain

Stay in a prehistoric cave near Granada Spain and make it a unique vacation to remember. There are 23 chalets carved into the ground with great facilities including a restaurant, pool and much more.

Kokopelli's Cave Bed & Breakfast – New Mexico

This bed and breakfast hotel accommodation has been built in the mountain rock. You are promised a luxurious and comfortable stay. With Southern Western Decor, plush carpeting and even a hot-tub, staying at this unique hotel will be a decision that you won't regret.
