

DRIVE LIKE A MILLION BUCKS

A number of factors were diminishing Gianluca Baldo's desire to drive the latest luxury car. As the owner of two vintage Alfa Romeo Spiders, Baldo knew he wouldn't have to shoulder just the cost of the new ride, but also endless repair bills, time spent ferrying the car to the dealership for tune-ups and oil changes, and concerns about where to keep it. In no time, the model would be out of style and he'd be back at the starting line.
