

Volunteer Travel: How It All Works

Ever thought of making your next holiday a wholly different experience to anything you've done before, to contribute with your time and money? Well join the thousands of people who travel to exotic destinations around the world and take part in the new eco-tourism revolution. Many otherwise well informed or those that consider themselves "travel trend conscious" are surprised to learn that not only do volunteers travel overseas to work for someone else, they pay for the privilege! There has been a very subtle shift away from the standard backpacking trip, over land type experience to this new type of holiday, and it's a fantastic experience to boot!

Date: 2007-10-29

Article link:

<https://www.tourism-review.com/travel-tourism-magazine-volunteer-travel-how-it-all-works-article329>