

Go on Safari & Help Support a Community

Its 5.45am in South Luangwa National Park, Zambia. In the copper-grey half dawn we gather around a still smouldering camp fire and prepare for the ultimate bush experience – a walking safari in which we can expect to track and see South Luangwa's heavy brigade of elephant, buffalo, hippo and possibly even lion...

Date: 2008-06-30

Article link:

<http://www.tourism-review.com/travel-tourism-magazine-go-on-safari-help-support-a-community-article579>