

Women in Hospitality: A Retrospective and View of That "Glass Ceiling"

It is unfortunately a common sight in newspapers – stories about Indian women being abused by the male dominated society they live in. There are even signs on Indian trains warning men that harassing women is a criminal offence. However, some members of the Indian society have been trying hard to improve things, including a group of women in India's financial capital, Mumbai, who have created a woman-driven taxi service for ... women only...

Date: 2008-08-25

Article link:

<http://www.tourism-review.com/travel-tourism-magazine-women-in-hospitality-a-retrospective-and-view-of-that-glass-ceiling-article590>