

The Casino Spa – The Perfect Solution?

It is an age old problem – the family wants to go somewhere on holiday yet the range of activities desired by members of the families differ so greatly that the holiday plans almost invariably end up in an argument. Generalizations are dangerous, but a typical situation could be described as the wife/girlfriend longing for shopping trips whereas the husband/boyfriend tends to want to indulge in a little bit of hedonism. This hedonism usually takes the form of alcohol, sport or gambling...
