

Tuscany: Slow down to See and Feel More

Truly Italian Approach Maybe the best thing about traveling so long in one region is that you make great local friends. Next thing you know, you've spent 20 years in a place and you're introducing those friends to your friends – which is exactly what we do with you in Tuscany. Walking from hotel to hotel, we show you our favourite parts – the best of the rolling Tuscan countryside, Etruscan tombs and great medieval towns. And all along the way, charming locals add depth to every experience, whether it's to impart the secrets of the truffle hunt, show you an insider's view of Cortona, teach you to make pasta and tiramisu using Grandma's recipes, or help you appreciate the differences between vino nobiles...

Date: 2007-01-29

Article link:

<https://www.tourism-review.com/travel-tourism-magazine-tuscany-slow-down-to-see-and-feel-more-article73>