

Sagrada Familia: remaining the icon

Barcelona , March 15 th 1878.– The professors of the School of Architecture of Barcelona meet the students who have successfully finished their architecture degree. Professor Elías Rogent, director of the school, initiates the presentation ceremony of the degrees. Among them stands out a young man with blond hair and blue eyes from the Campo of Tarragona. Aged 26 years old, this man would later move the world of architecture with his own personalised style.
