

A LIFETIME EXPERIENCE TRAVEL THROUGH THE RUSSIA

Olta Travel is pleased to announce the launch of the long awaited 16days Trans-Siberian Railway tour through Moscow, Irkutsk, Ulan Bator, and Beijing. The Trans-Siberian Railroad is the longest railroad route in the world that connects the western part of Russia with the Far East as well as China. Its length is long enough to take breath away as the route is more than 9 thousands kilometers and usually takes about a week to travel from one part of Russia to another on a train.

Though the journey can be a bit tough, however it is a wonderful experience many people dream about. In just one holiday package while travelling along the route, different cities and different cultures of Russia can be viewed with a huge and unforgettable pack of emotions after such journey.

The routes for travelling entails:

- Moscow to Vladivostok (or back) - This is the most popular route for travelling from Moscow to Vladivostok located on the western shores of the Sea of Japan. This route takes 15 days of travelling together with breaks in the journey in different cities of Russia along the way and travelers will have the advantage to visit Mongolia with its endless steppes and unique culture on their way.
- Moscow to Beijing (or back) - The route lies amidst magnificent landscapes, crossing all the great rivers of Russia: Volga, Irtysh, Ob, Yenisei and Amur. A Part of it runs along the shore of the mighty Lake Baikal and despite of the length of the journey, one cannot grow bored with the rich and picturesque scenery displayed on the way from Europe to Asia.

This route will guide travelers through three different cultures and countries : Russia, Mongolia, and China and will allow exploration of the most interesting places of every country, such as visiting Baikal lak, being introduce to nomadic family in Mongolia and walk down the Great Wall in China.

Olta Travel is flexible and committed to an individual approach. Olta Travel Regular overnight trains operates on every route between cities in Russia connected by railroad.
