Gentle Dental Abroad provides quality cosmetic dental services in the attractive coastal town of Hersonissos, Crete. Dental tourists receive their dental treatment during their vacation, and save up to 70% compared to average prices in their home countries. The clinic is led by Dr. George Antonopoulos, working with experienced associates and consultants in all fields of dentistry. The clinic offers top-notch services in state of the art facilities using high-quality materials imported from the USA and Germany, unlike some clinics in other countries who use inferior Far Eastern materials. The clinic provides a full range of cosmetic dental treatments, including implants, crowns, veneers, dentures, and teeth whitening, all at reasonable prices. Dental implants and crowns are the most popular treatments.

Dr. Antonopoulos says: "I am proud work with a great team of experienced professionals, who have carried out the simplest to most complex procedures many times. The team is fluent in English, some of us have postgraduate studies in the UK and all of us keep up to date with the very latest advances in dental technology. Our patients from abroad are always pleasantly surprised by the amount of attention and time we devote to them. They appreciate the personal service even more than the beautiful result. So even though they initially contact us for our low price, it is the quality of our service they most often comment on. They realise that their savings are much higher than 70%, because this type of high end cosmetic service comes with a much higher price tag."
