

THINGS TO DO IN BRISBANE TO HAVE THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE

Do you have visions of traveling to Brisbane in the near future? Are you excited about the time you'll get to spend in this city? Are you ready to book your trip and plan out your agenda?

Brisbane, which is the capital of Queensland, is one of the top tourist cities in all of Australia. It doesn't matter if you're traveling here for the first time or have done so in the past, nothing changes the fact that there is always something to do.

Before you can take in everything the city has to offer, you'll want to use Expedia to compare flights to Brisbane. This will give you a clear idea of what fits your schedule, as well as the cost of airfare.

Once you have all your travel accommodations in order, it's time to make a list of things you want to do.

Tip: with so much to experience, leave yourself enough time in Brisbane as possible. You can see a lot in one or two days, but not everything. A trip of seven days or more may be just what you need to soak up everything the city has to offer.

So, with all that in mind, let's talk about some of the top things to do:

Lone Pine Koala Sanctuary

If animals and nature are your thing, you'll want to stop by this attraction. With 100 species of native animals, you'll be amazed at some of the things that you see.

Not only is it the world's first koala sanctuary, but it's also the biggest (and many consider it the best).

Don't be surprised if you find yourself spending an entire day at the sanctuary, taking in all the sights and sounds.

Rock Climbing

There are many places to do this in Brisbane, but Kangaroo Point Cliffs is the cream of the crop.

Even if you don't have any experience with rock climbing, you shouldn't hesitate to give this activity a try. Sure, you'll be scared at first, but the experience is second to none.

Stradbroke Island Day Trip

If you're willing to spend an entire day on one activity, this is a great place to start.

A day trip to Stradbroke Island will change your perspective of the area forever. There's a lot to do upon arrival. From whale and dolphin watching to swimming in Brown Lake, you won't be hurting for action.

Ghost Tour of Toowong Cemetery

Yes, this is every bit as scary as it sounds. However, it's something you need to experience on your next trip to Brisbane.

Of course, you can't take a ghost tour of Toowong Cemetery on your own. Instead, you'll need to join a tour group (which typically costs $35 or so).

As you walk through the cemetery, your guide will provide information on the more than 100k people buried there, as well as a variety of urban legends.

Eat, Eat, and Eat Some More

You may not realize it until you touch down in Brisbane, but it's home to some of the top restaurants in Australia.

From casual to fine dining, you won't have to look hard to find a restaurant that suits your taste buds and budget.

Some of the highest-rated restaurants in the city include: Urbane Restaurant, George's Paragon Seafood Restaurant, and Customs House.

While you're sure to find a few restaurants that you fall in love with, don't get into the habit of eating there and nowhere else. There are hundreds upon hundreds to experience, so keep an open mind throughout the duration of your trip.

Final Thoughts

As you can see, there is always something to do in Brisbane. From relaxing on the beach to scaring yourself straight, staying busy will be the least of your worries.

Before you reach Brisbane, create a comprehensive list of the things you want to see and do in the city. With this in hand, there's less chance that you'll miss out on something you really want to experience.

Final tip: search online for more information on top attractions and tips for visiting the area. For example, you can use squareship for travel advice and official tourism sites for more detailed guidance.

Have you visited Brisbane in the past? Did you enjoy your trip? Share your favorite things to do in the comment section below.

Date: 2018-03-10

Article link: <https://www.tourism-review.com/things-to-do-in-brisbane-news10505>