

GAMES TO KEEP BOREDOM AT BAY WHEN STUCK AT AIRPORT

Imagine you enter the airport jumping with excitement that you are going home or a holiday destination to get away from your hectic life for a while. But as soon as you enter you hear that your flight has been delayed. Frustrating, right? It's also very annoying when long international flights stop for layovers and you have to wait for a couple of hours at the airport.

When all you can think of is the fun times after reaching your destination being stuck at the airport can seem like a prison. But worry not; there are various ways of making the most of your time spent at the airport.

After being told that your flight is delayed the first thing you'll do is pull out your phone and browse through all the apps you regularly use. But what do you do once you are done with them. Here we bring you a list of the most stimulating games both online and physical to keep the boredom at bay.

I Spy

I know what you are thinking, why is this age old game on the list. It may be a game you used to play as a child but it certainly has its charm. It's a very social and interactive game so if you are with friends and family you should definitely give it a try.

Even if you are travelling alone, just look for other bored people who are also waiting and ask them to play. The rules are simple, identify an object, then give hints to your partners so that they can figure out the object you have identified.

Top Trumps World Football Stars

This is an online slot designed by Playtech, which is among the top two companies in the world of online gaming. Top Trumps World Football Stars is one of the latest releases in the online games.

It features seven international teams on its reels and has good cash on offer. The game features 4 reels and wilds seem to appear on almost every spin. A distinctive feature of this slot is the 'Pass the ball' bonus where you get paid three times of what you have bet if you get two footballs and two star players on reel 2 and 4.

Airport City

This Android game will satiate the creative bug inside you. Say you are not happy with the infrastructure of the airport you are stuck at. You can create an entire airport simulation that is completely designed by you, the airport of your dreams.

Unfortunately you won't be getting paid for these creative ideas. However there is a way you can earn money while stuck at airport. Online casino such as LeoVegas is a great alternative for land based casinos. You can play it from anywhere and anytime you want. Playing casino games will definitely make your airport stay worthwhile and maybe profitable as well.

Airport Reporter

Another offline game which can be played with minimal resources, all you need is a pen/pencil and a notebook. Even though it is not advisable to judge people this game requires you to do exactly that.

Just pick out any person and create a storyline of his character viewed from your perspective. You will have to use a lot of imagination to build characters. It can be a fun game to play with your friends and will surely kill a lot of time.
