

THE BEST UNIVERSITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS IN ISRAEL

Studying in college is tough: both in the US and abroad. You need to handle a lot of assignments at the same time, write papers, complete projects, and create presentations. Even when you decide to pay people to do homework, you can always send a request like «Can you make an essay for me?» to one of those professional services, it is still very stressful, especially when you are far away from home. When young people consider studying abroad, they aim at top universities in Europe, Canada, and Australia, often overlooking perfect opportunities like the ones waiting for them in the Middle East.

Israel is one of them. Although it is not so popular with international students, it is still a perfect study abroad destination with great teachers, unique experiences, and a diverse college life. In this guide, we will cover the peculiarities and benefits of studying in Israel and the top educational institutions with great programs for international students.

Top benefits of Israeli universities

Did you know Israel is famous for being one of the most innovative countries, hi-tech space, and startup nation? This is just a gold mine for students with an entrepreneurial spirit. The high quality of life provides a high level of education, but for some reason, Israel is not on top of countries considered for getting education abroad, and it's not fair. Just like in the US, Israeli universities require you to study hard, learn lots of useful information, receive practical skills, and achieve great results. And just like in the US universities, you can request homework help ordering a paper from professional services (don't forget to check some speedy paper reviews to make sure you've picked the right service).

In return, you can find a great job after graduation and even stay in this country, building your professional career. Before you make a decision, consider these universities from our list that offer the best programs for international students:

Hebrew University

This institution is one of the highest-ranked universities in the world and was founded more than a hundred years ago. It offers three campuses across Jerusalem, seven faculties, three hundred academic sub-departments, one hundred research centers, full degree courses taught in English, the largest Jewish library for studies, and great study abroad programs. There are over 23K students, 15 Nobel prize winners and Turing award receivers and for $5K a year, you can become a part of this community;

Tel Aviv University

Currently, the institution is home to 28K students with nine faculties and 21 subjects, making it the biggest and most prestigious university in the country. With 50 years' history and for just $10K a year, you will have access to one hundred departments, over twenty schools of studies, seventeen teaching hospitals, and three hundred (!) research centers, not mentioning four hundred laboratories - this is a huge place indeed. It is located in the city and accommodates lots of international students coming here from different parts of the world`s parts. It has good international connections, high standards of academics, full English-taught programs and semester/year abroad;

Institute of Technology (Technion)

It is actually the oldest one, which also makes it one of the best in the country and also called the Israeli version of MIT. The main language of programs teaching is Hebrew, but an entire international department offering courses in English. The institution offers 19 departments, 17 subjects, multiple degree options (and not only in technologies), and maintains an affiliated university in New York. Right now there are over 14K students paying around $15K per year for receiving high-quality education;

Ben-Gurion University

Today this public research institution is home to almost 20K students coming here to study one of its famous scientific and computer programs. The university is a prestigious center for research and teaching; it combines five campuses, several extra research centers, and schools as well as great programs aimed at Israeli and international students. For $10K per year, you can receive education in one of the best places in the country;

The University of Haifa

Last but not least, on our list, this university can be proud of 18K students studying there for $12K annually. This is probably one of the finest higher education institutions in the Middle East with several faculties including law, humanities, social and health sciences, and exclusive degrees (for example, in the field of marine). Special conditions are offered to international students who successfully maintain the second year, online or honor programs. The university also collaborates with other institutions worldwide (currently, there are over three hundred of them).

Israel makes a great place for those who want to combine studies with new experiences, adventures, and Middle East culture exploration. Don`t be afraid to apply to all of them, and you will see how high your chances are.
