HOW TO CHECK KUWAIT VISA VALIDITY ONLINE

Kuwait is a beautiful country situated in a dry desert. The country's modern architecture, sandy beaches, and a spectacular blend of nature with all-year-round sunshine make it one of the world's leading tourist destinations. Besides tourism, the country is also a business hub, which is another reason for the high interesting Kuwait visa application processes.

Kuwait has one of the most straightforward e-visa application processes worldwide. However, even with the ease of application, you must ensure that your country of origin is on the e-visa list. 54 countries from across the world can apply for their visas on arrival, while the rest have to apply for theirs beforehand. Visas applied on arrival have a validity period of three months. One of the questions some people ask is how to check their Kuwait visa validity online.

How to verify and check your Kuwait evisa validity online

Travelers entering Kuwait from eligible countries have different options of obtaining their visas. They can choose to apply for their visas on arrival, which means queuing at the border to complete their visa applications, or opt for the simpler electronic Kuwait evisa online application.

The evisa has a 90-day validity, and the application takes only a few minutes. After you are through with the application, you get a unique reference number to verify your online visa application status.

When you apply for your Kuwait evisa, you will need to fill in some of your personal details that include a working email. You will receive your Kuwait evisa status updates and approval through the email provided.

The evisa application goes through a review process carried out by the State's Ministry of Interior. Even though the online Kuwait evisa process takes a few hours, you should prepare to wait for another three business days before the state approves your evisa. Business days do not include public holidays or the weekends.

If you do not receive the status of your evisa application after three business days through the email, you should first rule out that the process result is not in the spam filter. If it is not, you can go ahead to verify its status by following these simple instructions.

- Go to the website you used for the application of your Kuwait evisa.
- Enter your passport number, other unique details, and the reference number you got after the application process on the verify/check form.
- Submit the status application form and wait for a response through your email in the next 72 hours.

The validity of your Kuwait evisa depends on the type of visa you got before or on entering the country. Kuwait has three main types of visas-Tourist Visa, Business Visa, and Visa on Arrival.

You can obtain the Tourist Visa quickly by applying for it online, which saves you the agony of queuing at the border or going to an embassy to get one. The validity of the visa is a maximum of 90 days. A tourist online visa application requirements are your name, travel plans, address, and passport details. After application, you will get a unique number that you can use to check for the validity of the evisa.

Besides being a tourist attraction, Kuwait is also a business hub. Business people from different lifestyles apply for Business Visa to visit the desert country for trade fairs, meetings, business deals, and other work-related issues in thousands each year. After leaving the country, your Kuwait business visa is valid for another six months.

However, the visa does not give you the green light to seek employment in the country or stay for longer than expected. To find out about your business visa's validity, follow the same instructions as above, but only if your application was through a website.

Applying for a Visa on Arrival is also possible for visitors from certain countries. Visitors queue at the border for their application forms, which is not a very comfortable thing. To avoid queuing at the border, visitors can simplify their application processes by applying for their visas online. All they need after reaching the border is to present their Kuwait evisa alongside their passport, and they are good to go.

Final thoughts

Applying for your Kuwait evisa is a simplified process that expedites the time it takes to enter the beautiful state of Kuwait. The process to check for your visa validity and status is also just as easy as the application process. The electronic process saves you the agony of visiting the embassy or queuing at the border, and you can do it from the comfort of your home or home. The only thing to note is that you should be from a country with Kuwait evisa eligibility.
