

THAILAND AS A GOLFER'S HEAVEN

Since the end of the nineties, Thailand has been gradually building up a reputation of an ideal location for golfers from all over the world. With its exotic character, natural beauties and friendly people it has been attracting tourists for many decades; and the fact it offers amazing facilities for demanding golfers only increases Thailand's value.

One of Thailand's leading golf tour operators - Golfasian - has been establishing new golf courses all over the country, thereby collecting points for Thailand's already stunning reputation. The moment you set foot on Thai ground you get a personal tour guide who - according to your wishes - takes care of you and makes your sightseeing and shopping trips as pleasant as possible. Many golfers agree that most of Thailand's 200 golf courses are superior to their European counterparts as they are rarely overcrowded and ensure an right experience for a reasonable price. The courses are superbly maintained, local clubhouses are impressive.

If you want to get away from the city for a calm location to relax, Phuket is the place to go. Its beaches complement a golfing trip. The famous Blue Canyon club is highly praised by professional golfers such as Tiger Woods. It hosts world class tournaments and recently was awarded 'Best up and coming destination' for golf vacations by the World Golf travel Agents Association.

Date: 2007-01-04

Article link: <https://www.tourism-review.com/thailand-as-a-golfers-heaven-news111>